THE FRIEND IN NEED.

A friend in need when the need is his.

Is always easy enough to find; He will tell you how beautiful friendship is And babble concerning the ties that bind.

But the friend you find when you need a friend

Impatiently hears you tale of woe And denies the aid he is asked to lend.

As he hands you your hat, asking: "Must you go?" "Must you go?"

Towel Shower for Miss Sloan.

A very delightful compliment to Miss Florida Sloan was the towel shower given her on Friday evening by Miss Kate Galt. The Galt home was decorated with hearts in honor of the event carrying out the chosen color scheme for the wedding—white and blue.

Mrs. Galt and Miss Galt received the guests planning on each a subject they must discuss. All of them being housekeeper's problems, such as bakings, sweeping, dusting, etc. Each guest was to discuss her subject with the bride and the honoree received much advice before the evening was concluded.

After the guests were seated in the parlor an old maid's court was instituted. Miss Toy Mayhew was elected judge. Miss Blake Jones, prosecuting attorney and Miss Galt defending.

Miss Sloan was indicted for breaking the laws of the club and failing in love with a man—for the members of this society are permitted to love only cats and canary birds. Twelve club members were made jurors and after a careful hearing of both sides pronounced the prisoner "guilty." The sentence was hard labor over a chest of linen. The sheriff then took the culprit in charge and led her to the dining room where the table was neaped with snowy linen.

Delicious refreshments were served. Misses Mamie Nisbett, Minnie Bynum, Pearl Jones, Lizzie Dove, Viola Fisher, Minnie Chancellor, Willie Moore, Mary Galt, Edith Anderson, Frankie Bynum, Marie Smith, Blakie Jones, Edna Jones, Dorothy Smith, Mabel Roper, Etta Sloan, Mabel Jeffries, Cora Hoffman, Maggie Wilkes, Fay Mayhew; Mesdames Jack E. Trice of Ryan, Clara V. Hanson, Fort Worth, James Galt, C. Sloan, J. C. Smith, O. M. Redfield, Alvin Roper, W. R. Walters, J. W. Davis and J. O. Fisher.

Foreign Missionary Society.

The Foreign Missionary Society of the Broadway Methodist church meets Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. A. Bivens. The Bible Study will be the tenth chapter of Luke. Mrs. D. T. Nisbett will be leader. The lesson from Gloria Christa will be the chapter on Philanthropic missions. The class will meet promptly at four o'clock and a full attendance is asked.

Ladies of the Leaf.

As a slight token of appreciation of the services of Mrs. J. E. Wall as president of the Ladies of the Leaf, lowing resolution of thanks, which was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas the cordial welcome extended us by the hostess chapter, the Ladies of the Leaf, of Chickasha, has been one of continuous pleasure and profit. We would thank them first for our reception into their hospitable homes, and for the many attentions shown us during our stay here.

"Then we thank Mayor Edwards, who unlocked the gates of the city and cast the keys into the Wash; the musicians who gladdened our hearts with the sweet strains of 'Dixie'; the mayagila of es. m. of 'Dixie'; the young ladies' chorus for the excellent rendition of southern songs; the city for the use of the library as a meeting place, and the good people of Chickasha whose care and cordiality have made this convention one of the remembrances which will ever linger in our hearts with a constancy that will not cease.

"I COULD SEE YOU BURN"

ire of Women Aroused in Court at Pawhuska During the Brown Murder Hearing.

Pawhuska, Okla., Aug. 28.—Still more damaging testimony against Mrs. Nettie Brown may be produced in the concluding hours of the preliminary trial tomorrow when Bert and Cora Brumfield, held on the charge of conspiracy to effect the murder of P. H. Brown, take the witness stand in their own defense. The particular thing that inspires apprehension was a statement made by Cora Brumfield to Mrs. Brown in the court room last night.

"Now, what do you think of this case?" Mrs. Brown asked the girl. Turning an anguished eye upon the alleged murderer, the girl boldly replied: "I could see you burn on a brush heap."

It was feared that the women would flash and they were separated.

The state rested at 4 o'clock this evening, after spending the day in the examination of witnesses to bring up the struggling ends of details not heretofore produced. The principal witnesses were Sheriff J. L. Byrd and Deputy Sheriff Alvin G. Ellis. The former held out his revealing life first testimony of the murder theory from a Pawhuska attorney who represented Mrs. Brown in her divorce suit and was also accused. The latter told of the arrest of Alvin Brown in Texas while the young man was with a wild west show. The postmaster at Pawhuska and been made a confidante and when a letter addressed to Brown was mailed, Ellis left on the same train for the police's destination.

Some incriminating testimony against Cora Brumfield was brought out when a letter was produced that she had written to Brown in which she referred to a covert something that could be interpreted only by the facts that later developed.

Among the witnesses examined today was a sister of Mrs. Brown from Wichita, whose principal testimony was of value to the defense in that she declared that Brown treated his son well and the latter therefore could scarcely have found cause to commit the murder. Neighbors of the Browns testified to the character of the defendants and of the deceased.

It is generally believed that Cora Brumfield will reveal some secrets of the case not yet ascertained by the authorities when she goes on the witness stand tomorrow for the defense. That this testimony will clear her skirts and secure her brother's release and at the same time tend to fasten the tentacles tighter about Mrs. Brown is the general impression, and the largest crowd of the trial is expected.

Mob talk is a thing of the past and the entire city and community views the rounded out case with a silent horror.

Messrs. Emanuel and Sol Lowenstein will receive pupils on violin and piano after September 1. Phone 709.

HERO DIES IN SINKING SHIP

STEAMER STRIKES ROCK—FIVE OF CREW PERISH—ALL PASSENGERS SAVED—C. O. D.

Wash., Aug. 28.—The Alaska Steamship company's steamer Ohio, which left Seattle, August 24 with 128 passengers and a crew of 82 and a full cargo for Fort Graham and Valdez, Alaska, struck a rock off Steep Point, Alaska, today, and sank with five members of her crew. All of the passengers escaped. Early reports said that fifty or more lives had been lost, but the steamship company fixes the list at five on the strength of wireless dispatches from A. J. Honey, the railroad builder, who was taken off by the Humboldt. The steamers Humboldt and Rupert City, both equipped with wireless, were near enough to come to the rescue of the people on the sinking ship.

Purser F. J. Stephen of Seattle and Operator George C. Eagles of Winnipeg stuck to their posts and gave their lives to save the passengers. The steamer and cargo are a total loss.

An account of the disaster was received from Operator Booth at Ketchikan, Alaska, late tonight. Booth says in a dispatch to headquarters of the company here:

About 1 a. m. I was sitting with my receivers, clapped to my ears, having just finished working with Operator Echols on board the Ohio, when I was startled by hearing his call: 'C. Q. D. C. Q. D.'

I immediately answered and he sent the following message: 'Ohio struck a rock—steamer sinking; send aid immediately, or everybody will be lost.'

The steamships Humboldt and Rupert of the McKenzie Brothers Steamship company, happened to be near at the time and they both called the Ohio, asking for her latitude. Eagles gave it immediately and the Rupert flashed back that they would change their course and stand by the Ohio, as soon as possible.

"In the meantime, Echols sent another message saying: 'Ohio sinking fast—cannot hold out. Passengers being taken off in small boats. Captain and crew will stick to the last.'

The Humboldt and Rupert both replied that they were headed for the Ohio and would pick the passengers up. Then came the final message from the stricken vessel. It was never finished.

Passengers all off and adrift in small boats," it said, "Captain and crew going off in the last boat—waiting for me now—good-bye." I was unable to get him again," concludes Booth, "and I knew he had gone down with his ship."

NEEDS JAIL AND COURT HOUSE

Marietta Going to Vote on Bond Issue September 11.

John I. Pittman, clerk of the county court in Love county, was here yesterday afternoon from Marietta. In speaking of the proposed bond issue in that county which will be submitted to the voters on the 11th of September he said he thought the bonds would carry, as the county is very much in need of a jail and a court house, and the amount asked for by the commissioners is very reasonable.

Mr. Pittman says Marietta may have a candidate for gubernatorial honors, as the people are talking J. C. Graham for governor. Mr. Graham himself is not saying anything, but the Marietta people are urging him to make the race, believing that he is the logical candidate for the high honor.

LESSONED A WILDCAT

AND AT ONCE BUSINESS BEGAN PICKING UP—WILL TAKE GUN NEXT TIME.

Foraker, Okla., Aug. 28.—G. C. Purcell, a well-known resident of the Osage nation, southwest of Silverdale, had an exciting experience with a huge bobcat during the past week. He is looking a little worse for wear and is walking with two canes.

"Yes, it's true. I tried to do Jim Warren's stunt of roping a bobcat and I got bruised up on the rocks for my trouble," he told a newspaper man. "Even at that I would have landed him if a bunch of yellow hounds hadn't happened along and spoiled the sport."

"I had been riding the line for a Pawhuska outfit, and concluded to hunt up some carpenter work, and so I saddled 'Baldy' and started north. I stayed all night with a friend on Little Beaver, and after a cup of coffee in the morning headed for Arkansas City."

"In crossing the line by the Houghton ranch I jumped a big bobcat, and as it took north through the Scott ranch, I galloped after, shaking out my rope as I went. I missed the old fellow twice, but got him around the middle at the third cast. We were now in a rocky shale, and I turned Baldy for high ground, expecting to pull the cat into Silverdale."

"But then a bunch of real yellow hounds that had been running the cat, came yelping over the hill, and the wildcat made a jump and landed right on top of me and old Baldy."

CULBERSON FOR PRESIDENT

Senator Taylor of Tennessee Says Texan Would Carry East and South.

Montgomery, Mo., Aug. 28.—Senator Bob Taylor of Tennessee nominated a democratic candidate for president here today. He named the senior senator from Texas, Charles A. Culberson, on a tariff for revenue only and other so-called sound democratic principles.

He said Culberson would be strong enough in the east and would have the solid south back of him. From his viewpoint, he could see the republican party rent asunder on the tariff, especially since he had read that President Taft was going to tour the middle west and defend the new tariff and pay his respects to the republican insurgents.

Senator Taylor said he was getting tired of political and Chautauqua platforms, even at $500 per week. He said the "fiddle and the bow" lecture had made him a quarter of a million dollars and that he had delivered it as many as five times in the same town.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W.
